SPORTS

WIN

Call it courage, call it guts, call it DETERMINATION. There are many names for it, but what is it really, this indefinable quality that makes a person put out that extra something just when it seems there is nothing left to give? It takes courage merely to try out for the team. It means willingness to suffer, to sacrifice, to work harder than the next person. Maybe you thought it wasn't worth it. Maybe you considered skipping practice tomorrow, or quitting the team altogether. But you didn't, that is courage. Why they did it, how they did it, no one knows for certain. Perhaps it is explained by a slogan, favored by coaches, that is applicable to each of them. It says simply: Winners never quit; Quitters never win.

Congratulations Suffern athletes, you are all winners.
